JUNIOR WEB DEVELOPER

✉ marshalldaniel@gmail.com
📍 Sacramento, California
🌐 marshalldaniel

Anthropology graduate turned web developer. Started teaching myself while working abroad and quickly gained a newfound passion before arriving home. I went on to complete a Web Development Bootcamp and am eager to continue my headfirst dive into web development. I am most comfortable with Javascript and React but continually enjoy dipping my toes into the pool of technology I have yet to master. I'm a quick learner and highly adaptable to both new locations and technologies.

PROJECTS

Roadie Sounds

Music discovery service using multiple APIs, React Redux, Node JS and Express. A simple live music road-trip app where users select locations, genres and dates to receive a list of concerts and playlists that they can then save to their Spotify account.

Jungle

E-commerce application using Rails, Postgres, SASS, and ActiveRecord. Simulated real-world scenario of inheriting a large code base, and adding features to the product.

Chatty

Chatroom app based on React and WebSockets. A realtime chat app where users can send text or pictures, and receive notifications regarding online users.

Schoodle

Full stack event app using RESTful principles built on Node JS and Express. A streamlined scheduling app with user-friendly event setup, polling options and invitation functionality.

Tweetr

Single page app using jQuery, Node JS, Express and MongoDB. A sleek, stripped down twitter clone built from the ground-up.
